SUMMARY

I'm Rasamsetty Hemanth, a passionate tech enthusiast specializing in website development, cybersecurity, and no-code application creation. I thrive on experimenting with new technologies, embracing innovative ideas, and learning from every experience. With a developer account on the Play Console, I've published apps and actively participated in numerous internships, hackathons, and tech workshops. My notable project, True-Profile — a fake profile detection system — currently has a prototype and is in the patent application phase. I'm constantly inspired by the rapid advancements in AI and remain committed to adapting to emerging tech trends.
